Shaping the Views at the Top is IPAA WA's premier professional development opportunity for public sector young professionals

This session follows a unique format where participants are split into groups and are given the opportunity to collaborate with presenters and peers, to develop solutions to this year's theme: "WA 2025: Western Australian public sector issues that young professionals will need (and be needed) to help solve."

Presenters

Mr Sven Bluemmel

Information Commissioner of WA, Office of the Information Commissioner
President, IPAA WA

Gail McGowan

Director General,
Department of Planning

Len Kosova

Chief Executive Officer,
City of Vincent

Nina Lyhne

A/Director General,
Department of Transport

Topics

- Complex problem solving
- Critical thinking
- Collaboration
- Political savvy

Unique Format

We have cut out the middle management to provide participants with this incredible opportunity to hear from and have their views heard directly by chief executives.

Listen

Participants will hear from CEOs and Directors General on how the public sector develops policy advice for the government of the day.

Engage

Participants will have the opportunity to contribute ideas and share their perspectives through an engaging facilitated round table process.

Grow

These ideas will be worked upon by the group to create policy recommendations, to be fed into the respective organisations' policy processes.
